Dear Mr. Jackson,

Throughout my career, I've achieved success in various recurring television roles. My proudest achievement was my performance as James Robinson in the limited true-crime series "Hades," which received a positive response in critical reviews. My versatility as a television actor will allow me to excel in your new television production.

The critical acclaim of Saleem Roberts' "Running from Truth" draws me to audition for a role in this new series. I believe that my dynamic acting style will allow me to deliver powerful performances for your production based on my past achievements:

- Received an Emmy nomination for best-supporting actor in a drama series for emotionally charged performance as James Robinson in "Hades"
- Achieved recognition from critics for the role of Javert in the Lyric Theatre production of "Les Miserables," which included a Tony Award nomination for best supporting actor
- Utilized method acting techniques to bring the role of Draco Malfoy to life in the Apollo Theatre production of "Harry Potter and the Cursed Child"

I hope to schedule an audition to demonstrate how my experience as both a television and theater actor can benefit your production. Feel free to contact me via phone or email at your convenience. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Edward Brown
